ACKNOWLEDGMENTS:

This project has been funded in part with historic preservation grant assistance provided by the Bureau of Historic Preservation, Division of Historical Resources, Florida Department of State, assisted by the Florida Historical Commission. However, the content and opinions do not necessarily reflect the views and opinions of the Florida Department of State, nor does the mention of trade names or commercial products constitute endorsement or recommendation by the Florida Department of State.

2009 Matching support was provided by the University of Florida College of Design, Construction and Planning:
- Provost's Storm Zone, MIA
- Jenn Garrett, Master of Interior Design Student
- Abdallah Qamhaieh, PhD Student
- Historic Preservation Programs
- Office of the Vice President for Business Affairs
- Facilities Planning and Construction Division
- Linda B. Dixon, AICP
- Harold Barrand, Architect
-Archives Library: Carl Van Ness, Archivist
- Preservation of Historic Buildings and Sites Committee
- University Relations

Additional support was provided by the Getty Campus Heritage Initiative. The Getty Grant Program funds a diverse range of projects that promote learning and scholarship about the history of the visual arts and the conservation of cultural heritage; it consistently searches for collaborative efforts that set high standards and make significant contributions.
THERE IS THE EARLY CAMPUS: 1905-1925

For the opening fall semester of 1905, Thomas G. Hadley (2) and E.G. Eckerd (22) awarded several university buildings including classrooms, dormitories, dining halls, and administration offices. The building was named after the sprawling facture of the campus buildings. The University of Florida is a large and comprehensive land-grant university with a diverse range of programs and departments. The University of Florida is a large and comprehensive land-grant university with a diverse range of programs and departments.

The University of Florida, founded in 1853, was the first university in the state of Florida. The university was established to provide higher education to the citizens of Florida. The university is located in Gainesville, Florida, and is the largest public university in the state.

The University of Florida is a large and comprehensive land-grant university with a diverse range of programs and departments. The university is located in Gainesville, Florida, and is the largest public university in the state.

The University of Florida is a large and comprehensive land-grant university with a diverse range of programs and departments. The university is located in Gainesville, Florida, and is the largest public university in the state.